Police formed a cordon around the Kenilworth Road pitch at the final whistle yesterday

Extra police on duty for Hatters cup clash

AROUND 300 police officers were in town yesterday to ensure the sell out FA Cup tie between Luton and Millwall went smoothly.

Cops escorted travelling fans to Déjà Vu Bar on High Town Road and Charlie Brown's, on the corner of Dudley Street and Midland Road from 10am, before leading them to Kenilworth Road.

Officers from Bedfordshire Police, as well as British Transport Police, the Metropolitan Police and Hertfordshire Police were called into action in a bid to create a large and visible presence ahead of the game.

Apart from the odd hostile moment between the fans inside the ground, there was no trouble and the game went ahead peacefully.

However, the police took no chances at the final whistle, forming a tight cordon around one half of the pitch to prevent fans entering the field and clashing.

"What a waste of money," chanted the Millwall fans.

The players and coaching staff exited the pitch after the game amid a cacophony of barking police dogs and chanting.

EDL in plans for summer gathering

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

THE English Defence League has said it is planning a festival this summer, Luton on Sunday can reveal.

Kevin Carroll, the joint-leader of the group, said that the EDL will 'be coming back to Luton' this year and holding a festival in St George's Square.

Last year the EDL cancelled a rally after an intervention from Lenos Wilson of the Non Violence Alliance.

But Mr Carroll, who came fourth in last year's PCC election, said they were considering a festival as opposed to doing another demonstration.

He said: "We'll be coming back to Luton this year that's for sure."

"We did consider, from the demonstration point of view, but then we thought about a festival. We are going to call it Love EDL Hate Racism and then we can have bands, music and entertainment."

Last week LoS reported that

Luton Council had put in place a new policy stating its intention of opposing events in the town centre which it deemed as negatively affecting the community and harming the town's reputation.

The policy applies to St George's Square and Market Hill which have been designated as 'public open spaces' and Manchester Street, Town Hall Square and Park Square which are 'public highways'.

Mr Carroll said: "That's not a policy, that's a tyrannical dictatorship."

"That's them saying 'okay because we do not like the EDL we'll use every and any excuse to defame them or demonise them so we'll stop and get them banned."

"That's not right is it? That's part of the reason there is a problem in this town and the country as it is."

"We are not being heard. You've got a whole section of the community that are not being allowed to get their voice heard and they've got genuine fears and concerns."

Mr Carroll also said that the group would be inviting a host of international speakers including controversial Dutch politician Geert Wilders and Danish activist Anders Gravers Pedersen.

He also said that American activists Pamela Geller, Robert Spencer and Rabbi Nachum Shifren were being lined up.

Over the past few years marches held by the EDL and counter-protests by the UAF in the town have led to businesses being shut and widespread media coverage.

The EDL's other joint-leader Stephen Lennon is currently serving time in prison for travelling to the USA on someone else's passport.

A police spokeswoman said: "Any group wishing to hold an event within Luton should first contact the local council to ensure that all appropriate measures are followed to ensure that the people attending are safe."

The council said it has not had any contact from the EDL regarding a festival.

Life for man guilty of drink-fuelled murder

BY LAUREN ARCHELL
lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

A MAN who argued with a house mate has been found guilty of murder and sentenced to life imprisonment.

Konrad Kaczynski, 30, of Stockwood Crescent had pleaded not guilty to killing 51-year-old Włodzimierz Jablonski after detectives launched a murder investigation in August 2012.

The court heard how Kaczynski had been involved in an argument with the victim on Wednesday, August 7, as they drank alcohol and watched TV in a house they shared with several other people.

Bedfordshire Police were called to the address at 8.30pm after receiving reports of a disturbance.

Officers found Mr Jablonski suffering with head injuries and administered first aid until the Ambulance Service arrived and took him to hospital where he died seven days later. A post mortem later confirmed the cause of death was due to a brain injury.

VICTIM: Włodzimierz Jablonski

GUILTY: Konrad Kaczynski

At Luton Crown Court on Friday, the jury found Kaczynski guilty of murder by a unanimous verdict. Judge Richard Foster sentenced him to life imprisonment, adding that he must serve a minimum of 14 years before he can apply for parole.

Senior investigating officer, Detective Inspector John Arthur, said on hearing the verdict: "This case illustrates the dangers that excess alcohol poses and how a simple argument can leave a man dead and his family grieving."

At the end of the trial, Mr Jablonski's niece, Jolanta Graczyk, who lives in Luton, said: "Our family is devastated by the loss of my uncle."

"To be taken away from us was heartbreaking for all our family - he will never be forgotten."

Airport protesters stage demo at town hall

A GROUP of residents who are against plans to expand Luton Airport held a demonstration on Friday.

Ten protesters arrived at the town hall with a bed - to symbolise the sleepless nights that they fear they will endure if proposals go ahead and more night flights are carried out.

The group then took the bed, which was signed with 80 names of those against the airport plans, into the town hall and left it in reception for the leader of the council, Hazel Simmons.

Chris Nickolay, 62, of Breachwood Green, Hitchin, organised the stunt. He said: "I and many others are completely opposed to these plans and will fight to stop them being put through."

A spokesman for Luton Airport said: "It would be inappropriate to comment while the statutory consultation period is ongoing."

OPPOSITION: The residents are against plans to expand Luton Airport

newsbriefsAPPRENTICE AWARD FOR FIRMS

TWO companies based in the town have been shortlisted among the best internship providers in the UK.

Vauxhall Motors and TUI UK & Ireland have been nominated by the National Council for Work Experience (NCWE) for its 2013 awards.

TUI UK & Ireland has been shortlisted for two awards whilst Vauxhall is up for one.

Victoria Manning, who heads up the placement scheme at TUI UK & Ireland, said: "We are extremely excited to be nominated as we are incredibly proud of our placement scheme and the opportunities it offers undergraduates."

Phil Millward, HR director at Vauxhall UK & Ireland, said: "Our undergraduate programme helps highlight the dynamic and rewarding careers that are widely available within the industry."

LONG-SERVING COUNCILLOR DIES

WIGMORE Councillor Roy Davies has died, it has been announced. He gave more than 30 years of service at the town hall.

The Liberal Democrat served constituents in Putteridge, Stopsley and Wigmore during his political career.

He first stood as a councillor at the now defunct Bedfordshire County Council.

A statement on the website of Luton Liberal Democrats said: "Roy believed that local people should always be consulted before decisions were made and had frequent battles with the authorities when they tried to impose decisions that people didn't want."

"He never forgot that being a local representative was about listening to local people."

Horse DNA in Whitbread products

A DUNSTABLE company is the latest to become embroiled in the scandal over contaminated meat.

Following tests on its meat products, Whitbread has found horse DNA in a beef lasagne and a beef burger.

The company said it was shocked by the results and apologised to customers. The products have been removed from menus at its Premier Inn, Brewer's Fayre, Befeater Grill and Table Table restaurants.

A spokesman for Whitbread said: "At Whitbread we take the quality and standards of our food extremely seriously.

"Although we have continued to receive assurances from our suppliers about the meat content of our products, in line with Food Standards Agency guidance we have carried out independent tests on meat products.

"We sent 30 products to be tested and received the results of these tests on Thursday, February 14.

"Two of these products tested positively for equine DNA and we immediately removed them from our menus.

"The two affected products were a meat lasagne and a beef burger.

"They will not be replaced until further testing has been undertaken and we are fully reassured of the integrity of our products.

"We are shocked and disappointed at this failure of the processed meat supply chain.

"As an industry it is clear we need the supply chain to deliver products to the highest standards of food integrity and quality that we and our customers expect.

"We would like to sincerely apologise to our customers for any concerns or inconvenience that this may cause."

- Luton Borough Council and Central Bedfordshire Council have issued assurances that contaminated beef has not been used in school dinners.

A spokesman for LBC, said: "At present there is no plan to remove minced beef from the menu. LBC Catering Services do not use beef or beef products from any of the suppliers mentioned in the media."

A Central Bedfordshire Council spokesman said: "Schools in Central Bedfordshire are responsible for their own meals contracts. If parents do have concerns they should get in touch with staff."

MP faces investigation over expenses claims

BY ADAM THOMPSON
editor@lutononsunday.co.uk

THE MP for Mid-Bedfordshire Nadine Dorries is being investigated by a parliamentary watchdog over her expenses.

It has been revealed that the compliance officer of the Independent Parliamentary Standards Authority (IPSA) is looking into claims made by the controversial politician for accommodation and travel.

Ms Dorries, had previously been investigated for her expenses in 2010 where she agreed to pay back £1,000.

A statement published on Friday on the website of the IPSA compliance officer read: "This notice is published in accordance with Section 9 and 9A of the Parliamentary Standards Act 2009 (as amended) and Paragraph 48 of the Second Edition of the Procedures for Investigations of the Compliance Officer for IPSA.

"The Compliance Officer for the Independent Parliamentary Standards Authority has reason to believe that Ms Nadine Dorries MP may have been paid an amount under the MPs' Scheme of Business Costs and Expenses that should not have been allowed.

"An investigation will be conducted into claims submitted under the following areas of the Third and Fourth Editions of the MPs' Scheme of Business Costs and Expenses: Accommodation Expenditure; Travel and Subsistence.

"In accordance with the legislation and the procedures for investigation made thereunder, no further information shall be published until the investigation has been concluded."

IPSA said it didn't wish to add any comment.

Talking to the BBC, Ms Dorries, denied she had done anything wrong, saying: "I have never claimed a penny in my expenses that I shouldn't have claimed.

"They suspect that I sublet my flat for three months. I certainly didn't.

"Any MP that went through the MPs expenses scandal would have to be mad to have sublet any property since."

The MP had her whip suspended by the Conservative Party in November after she left the country to take part in I'm A Celebrity Get Me Out Of Here, pictured.

Shirt swap turns town orange

AIRLINE operator easyJet teamed up with Luton Town stars Simon Ainge and Lathaniel Rowe-Turner to drum up support for the club ahead of yesterday's FA Cup tie against Millwall.

The first 50 fans who turned up outside the Town Hall on Friday were invited to give up their non Luton Town club shirt and replace it with the team's famous orange jersey – to show they are backing the home side.

Paul Simmons, easyJet's UK director, said: "In recent years, we know that many Lutonians have defected to more successful football teams. We wanted to give them the chance to renew their allegiance to Luton Town and to trade in their Manchester United, Chelsea and other team shirts for one from the mighty Hatters.

"We've been sponsors of Luton Town Football Club for four years now and are delighted that we were able to join forces on the eve of such an important game for the team."

SUPPORT: Hatters players help give out shirts

A&E patients told to use GPs more

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

THE number of patients using the town's accident and emergency department (A&E) has risen by more than 16,000 in the past two years.

Luton and Dunstable Hospital's A&E has seen attendances jump from 64,000 in 2010 to 80,714 in 2012, according to official figures provided by the hospital.

This number does not include people attending the urgent GP clinic which is based at the L&D during the day and evening.

David Kirby, pictured, a senior consultant at the hospital, has said the rise is due to an increasing population and people not using their GPs enough.

He said: "We have seen a dramatic increase in people in to the A&E department.

"The population is expanding; it's transient with many people passing through the town to use things such as the airport.

"It's difficult to say why people are coming more but people are coming in with things which we are not best equipped to treat.

"Whereas they might have gone to the GP they come to us now.

"At the end of the day we can attend to them but there are other things best suited for GPs to deal with.

"The GPs have a huge amount of experience and don't get me wrong they are not crying out for your service, but I think they are being underused.

"Very often we send people back to their GP.

"We are more suited to things such as acute injuries and injuries that have just happened.

"Long term and serious illnesses are better dealt with by GPs."

The hospital says it spent £3million in 2010 to refurbish the A&E department so that it could 'aid a smoother flow of patients through the hospital'.

During the past year it has also been running community-based services where it has been treating patients with long-term chronic illnesses.

Mr Kirby said: "The L&D has spent a lot of money on improving our front services.

"We have also got a lot of community services and they can prevent people from becoming ill in the first place."

A hospital spokeswoman said: "We don't want to discourage people who have emergency health problems.

"But we fully support our healthcare partners, such as the ambulance service, in reminding the public to ask themselves whether they really need to come straight to A&E?"

"If not, then the GP should always be their first port of call rather than A&E."

Mosque extension given green light

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

COUNCILLORS have given planning permission for a mosque extension after opting to go against the recommendations of planning officers.

The decision, made during a heated council meeting on Wednesday, has given the green light for the addition of a first floor and a front extension on the building on Sarum Road, pictured right.

But restrictions will be placed by the council on how the building can be used.

A report discussed by councillors had recommended that permission be refused as building the extensions would result in noise and disturbance for neighbouring houses.

The council had previously rejected an application for the same property in November 2011.

The latest submission received 45 letters of support and ten letters of objections, with two petitions containing a total of 91 signatures.

Austin Smith, 48, a resident who has lived on the road for 24 years, said: "To me it makes no sense. They want to put restrictions but how can they police it?"

"I was home last summer when they had meetings at midnight. How can you police that?"

Mohammed Ali, 50, who is part of the committee at the mosque, said: "We're about promoting peace and harmony and not disturbing residents."

"I don't know how the restrictions will work but we will come to an agreement with the council on whatever works."

A council spokeswoman said that conditions had been imposed on three other residential properties that have been converted into places of worship and that officers were currently drawing up the restrictions that would apply to the mosque.

Passenger fined for being drunk on aircraft

A MAN who had to be escorted from a flight by police has pleaded guilty to being drunk on an aircraft which landed at Luton Airport.

Sunai Sachdev, 23, who lives in Kingsbury,

London, had been in Amsterdam with his friends, but ended up travelling home alone on January 30 after missing two flights that he had booked.

On Wednesday, Luton

Magistrates' Court was told that Sachdev drank Bailey's before boarding the flight and continued to drink vodka on the plane.

Crew members called the police, who arrived to find Sachdev asleep across three seats. Officers described him as 'abusive' as they took him to Dunstable police station.

The court ordered him to pay a fine of £220.

No end to train chaos for town's commuters

RAIL passengers have been warned of more delays, following damage to overhead lines on a track near Radlett.

Thousands of commuters endured three days of lengthy delays, as Network Rail battled to resolve the problems which began on Wednesday.

Rail replacement buses were put on at Luton Airport Parkway to try and keep commuters moving. A statement from First Capital Connect on Friday said: "Our services are starting to return to normal, however there will be residual delays."

Grant axe consultation has low response rate

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

ONLY one in seven schools responded to a council consultation on cutting a school uniform grant.

Luton Council wrote to 73 schools in the borough about its plans to axe the annual grant of £25 given to eligible children in the town to help with the cost of purchasing uniforms.

However, only 13 schools responded to the proposals, with 21 individuals voicing their opinion through the council's Community Debate initiative, which has cost £15,000 so far.

The authority said it could not name anyone who responded or did not respond to its survey.

On Monday councillors agreed the uniform scheme, which costs £190,000, would end in April.

The decision is expected to affect around 8,550 children and 4,000 families in the town.

A document presented before the meeting stated that the authority would now work to encourage schools to start up their own 'uniform redistribution schemes'.

A council spokesman said: "We made sure as many people as possible knew about the consultation by writing to all schools and sending out press releases which were picked up by the local media."

"Obviously it was a personal choice as to whether people wanted to comment on the proposals."

Party politics are being played

SIR - The coalition government has cut its contribution to the cost of Bedfordshire's Police Service by 20 per cent.

Last week's correspondents don't mention that but complain that the police precept has gone up by two per cent.

Just who is playing party politics here?

The Fire Authority precept has gone up by the same amount and for similar reasons.

They don't mention that either.

Again who is playing party politics?

Mike Bishop,
Jupiter Drive, Leighton Buzzard

Fears for housing future

SIR - I heard it reported last week that a borough council elsewhere was going to take the long term people off the authority housing list because they had no chance of getting a house.

Now I wonder if this is going to happen in other areas such as Luton?

It seems to me that the country is getting geared up to ready themselves for when people from countries including Romania and Bulgaria are allowed entry into the country. Some say as many as one million are expected to arrive and live in England.

The Government don't know. They don't even know how many people are in the country now.

My point is where are these people going to live?

Let's extend ban further

SIR - I was pleased when I read the Luton on Sunday front page and saw that the group calling themselves the UAF cannot protest in St George's Square or Market Hill.

The council made a decision and I think they made the right one.

No political group, whether that be from the left or right, should be allowed to disturb the peace and quiet of the mothers and children, students and other townspeople, who after doing some shopping in The Mall, like to sit down in St George's Square in the summer sunshine for a few hours.

The council should go even further.

They should ban ball games, they should ban pit-bulls along with their macho show-off owners and they should also ban shirtless men and drunks from hanging around in the summer months.

international businesses and their employees who contribute daily to our local economy and communities.

Now is not the time for a small group of NIMBYs to represent their minority view as that of the majority, nor to seek to put our politicians over a barrel! So far this year we have seen HMV, Jessops, and Blockbuster disappear from our high streets during an austere time when members such as our's are trying their best to kick start growth in our local economy.

We therefore call upon our national and local politicians to get behind our businesses, help us in the economic recovery, and support the much needed development at Luton Airport!

Look at meat alternatives

SIR - No one knows what is in the meat products that we find on British supermarket shelves; horse and pig meat were found in beef burgers.

With the undercover investigations showing the horrific cruelty inflicted on animals at the time of slaughter still fresh in our minds, isn't it time to consider switching to a meat-free diet? Contact info@animalaid.org.uk to order a free pack containing meat-free recipes and nutritional information.

Airport plans are positive step

SIR - Bedfordshire Chamber of Commerce is appalled by HALE's (Hertfordshire Against Luton Airport Expansion) reactionary stance which shamefully dismissed the recent results of a consultation on development at Luton Airport as "flawed" and "misleading".

By choosing to focus only on 25 per cent of the 1,360 responses, they have completely disregarded the views of over 1,000 hard-working, taxpaying, local, national and

ANOTHER day, another initiative from David Cameron.

Don't knock it... all right then, I will. This time it is to make sure people from the rest of the EU do not come here and live off our benefit system and the NHS.

This is partly, or even mainly because Romania and Bulgaria join the EU next year and the Tories are frightened there will be an influx from those countries who will be living off our state.

They may well have a point but have left it a bit late. First it was the Conservatives who fought for this.

They wanted an increase in the number of countries in the EU because that would prevent the emergence of a European state. Widening, not deepening, was the phrase.

A catchy saying but they did not look at the possible consequences, which with no borders means the population of new member states could go where they like. Some countries did foresee this and put in special rules, but not the UK.

Second, much of what Mr Cameron is saying will happen, won't happen.

Preventing other European members from using the NHS will be all but impossible, unless of course we all have identity cards.

How else will doctors know whether to treat a person?

The same problems will exist

Two-tier state not the answer with benefits and housing. There are rules and the rules are not entirely decided by our Government.

That may be wrong but a series of British Governments, including those when Margaret Thatcher was Prime Minister, did agree to them.

I recognise there could be a potential problem with the number of members of new states wanting to enjoy the pleasant benefits and weather of the UK. But we are not able, at present, to prevent EU immigration, at least not easily.

But preventing too many coming to the country in the first place might make more sense than trying to create a two-tier welfare state.

LAST summer, which seems an age away, Bedfordshire Police was looking to outsource many of its backroom functions to G4S.

Many members of the police, the police unions and the Police Authority, were worried by the plan. This newspaper, and this columnist, was also opposed to it. An alternative, in-house plan was added to the options, but seemed to have little chance of success, against the allure of a global security firm.

Then came the G4S Olympic fiasco, followed by the election of a Police and Crime Commissioner for the county, Olly Martins.

And, lo and behold, things have changed.

The outsourcing proposal has been dropped and it looks like the alternative in-house proposition will be adopted.

Hurray for common sense, I say.

And well done to the PCC and the Chief Constable.

The only grit in this new, tasty oyster is what I promised, fool that I am.

So sceptical of the procedure was I that I said if the internal option is adopted I would head off to the Police HQ in my shorts and trainers and run 100 yards, doing my Usain Bolt impression.

I am not being let off the hook.

Awards handed out to police stars

THE annual awards ceremony was not quite as glitzy as in previous years.

This has to be right in these austere times. Nevertheless it was a lively event, where officers, staff, specials, cadets and volunteers from across Bedfordshire Police force were recognised for their hard work and achievement.

The awards took place on Friday, February 8 and were held at police headquarters in Kempston.

The event was hosted by the Chief Constable, Alf Hitchcock and the winners of the 17 categories covered the many diverse activities of the force, as well as recognising the outstanding work achieved by individuals and teams at all levels.

LSN Media sponsored one of the awards, the Community Officer/Team of the year award, which was voted for by the public.

There were more than 150 guests in total, as the winners were surrounded by family, friends and colleagues, who congratulated those who had gone over and above what was expected of them and gone the extra mile in the bid to fight crime and protect the public.

Mr Hitchcock said: "Everyone within the force has a special role to play and are key to the success of the organisation. This is why it is so important to recognise those who have gone over and above what is expected of them. The evening was a great success. It was fantastic to value and celebrate all of our winners, who have shown an amazing commitment to Bedfordshire police and the public we serve and I am honoured to work with all of them."

The Community Team of the Year was won by the Luton North/West Local Policing Team. The public of Bedfordshire voted for the winner via our newspapers. The team has a firm but fair and friendly approach, building on trust and cohesion in the community, giving priority to support victims, developing initiatives and supporting voluntary groups.

One of the most popular awards of the evening was to Inspector Dave Minney, who won the Lifetime Achievement Award. The Force Control Room Inspector joined in 1983, and soon found himself in the thick of the miners' strike and the hunt for the infamous county serial rapist known as The Fox. While working as a traffic Sergeant he nearly lost his life when hit by a drunk driver. He battled his way back to fitness before moving into the Control Room.

The Police Staff Employee of the Year was jointly won by Parjinder Basra and Audrey Campbell. Parjinder is central to the force with a practical, trustworthy and calm approach and has a strong moral and ethical standing. He strives daily to improve the efficiency, reputation and ethos of the force. Audrey has project managed considerable cultural, structural and organisational change to an excellent degree.

Charity calls for talks on new care proposals

BY CARL MUNGAZI
carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

A CHARITY has responded to the Government's proposals to cap care costs at £75,000 by calling for a wider debate on the quality of services currently on offer.

Colette McKeaveney and Kwaku Adjei, from the elderly people charity Age Concern, have said that while the proposals 'will help some people', a much bigger discussion was needed on what kind of care was being offered on a national and local level.

Earlier this week The Department of Health announced that people needing social care would pay up to £75,000 for the service.

In 2010 the Government ordered a review into the funding of social care and support. The commission was led by Andrew Dilnot and it reported its findings in 2011.

Mrs McKeaveney said: "The care cap will help some people but care quality is a much bigger debate that we must have."

"You have care provided for people in the community and care for people in care homes or places such as that."

"Some elderly residents are getting a total of one hour of personal contact day through their carers. That leaves a long time for them to be alone.

CONCERN: Kwaku Adjei said carers were under a lot of pressure

"In the community you have one individual doing many jobs and seeing different clients."

"If that person is sick one day or is delayed getting to a job because of traffic issues, the person needing care is left alone."

Mr Adjei said that elderly people relying on carers are in a vulnerable position because of the time constraints on workers.

He said: "If we say we are going to commit to giving people care then we must think about it properly. Other areas of care are well scrutinised but one on one care is much harder to regulate."

"There is such a high turnover of staff in individual care."

"Sometimes elderly people find themselves used to someone and then they have a new carer the next day."

"These elderly residents get lonely and they are vulnerable so they feel if they complain they will not get any more care."

"It's hard getting people to speak out."

Stay Streets Ahead with Tae Kwon-do

We are a rapidly growing Martial arts Organisation. In partnership with the UKTI and other interested organisations promoting Martial Arts, it is our aim to promote and encourage participation in Martial Arts and in particular, the participation of young people, women, members of ethnic minority communities and those with special needs.

We teach the original and authentic TaeKwon-Do, as founded by General Choi Hong Hi in April 1955. Since then TaeKwon-Do has developed into one of the most popular martial arts in the world. However with popularity comes imitation, and is often difficult to distinguish between what is original and what is not. The International TaeKwon-Do Federation (ITF) is the original TaeKwon-Do worldwide organisation, and International Linked TaeKwon-Do (ILT) England is an active member.

Young children benefit extensively from TaeKwon-Do; we are living in a society where competition and winning is becoming more important than personal achievement and growth. Children learn in a non-competitive environment, and are taught to respect discipline, etiquette, self control as well as a very effective self-defence. There can be no question that TaeKwon-Do is of enormous benefit to children of all ages.

With obesity being a main worry especially in Luton, TaeKwon-Do is a key way to improve health and fitness and is suitable for all ages and body parts.

New students need not worry about their level of fitness, as it will gradually improve with their TaeKwon-Do training. Students are never made to feel uncomfortable or inadequate! We have students from 4yrs to 74yrs old! ILT classes are segregated by grade. There are 4 groupings:

Tots TaeKwon-Do

(5-7 year olds)

Intermediates

(green tags to blue tags)

Beginners

(white belt to yellow belt)

Our classes (except Tots TaeKwon-Do) are for all age groups. We tend to partner adults with adults adults, juniors with juniors although, on occasion we enable the junior students to practice their skills against a larger opponent. This helps better prepare the students for real life. This class structure also enables parents and children to share an activity by providing the opportunity to train at the same time.

Training sessions may include some of the following elements;

- Stretching
- Fundamental movements
- Patterns
- Sparring
- Pad work
- Stamina training
- Self-defence
- Anti Bullying and Street Awareness training

There is a structured programme where students will learn set techniques and associated theory. Periodically we host gradings where the individual can be assessed for their next belt; a visual representation of their development. For the younger students, we offer merit pages for demonstrating particular skills.

Master John believes TaeKwon-Do is about much more than self-defence and the practicing of a Martial Art. It develops discipline and confidence in the individual and opens a gateway to many life skills including earning a black belt, considered to be equivalent to an educational degree. A great way of showing the world and future employers your commitment to see tasks through to completion and beyond.

Cyclist Ottilie backing organ transplant push

BY LAUREN ARCHELL
lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

A WORLD champion cyclist has said that she is 'delighted' with the response to a national campaign aimed at encouraging more people to join the organ donor register.

Ottilie Quince, 30, from Luton, received a lifesaving kidney transplant from her mum in August 2007 after being diagnosed with a life-threatening condition.

Since then, she has battled back to full fitness and is the current double British, double European and double world transplant cycling champion in the 5km time trial and the 20m road race events.

Now she says she is over the moon with the response to the 'From the Heart' campaign organised by ITV which has seen more than 35,000 new people joining the organ donor register in this week alone.

Ottilie said: "The campaign isn't about pressurising people to sign up.

"But my message would be to make an informed choice.

"There are a lot of misconceptions about organ donation and it can be seen as a bit of a taboo

CHAMPION: Ottilie Quince
received a life-saving kidney transplant in 2007

subject as no-one really wants to talk about death. But it is such a worthwhile conversation to have.

"The organs from one person can be used to save up to nine lives and that is a wonderful legacy to have.

"My life would be incomparable and very restricted had I not had a kidney transplant.

"I would not have been able to do my job and there is a very real chance that I would have had to have dialysis treatment three times a week. That is why I now want to be the best I can be and prove to my mum that she made the right decision in donating her kidney to me."

To find out more about signing up to the organ donor register, visit <http://www.organdonation.nhs.uk>

■ Ottilie is also fundraising so that she can defend her titles this year in South Africa.

Officers on hunt for suspected serial flasher

POLICE are appealing for witnesses and potential victims to come forward after two reports have been received relating to a man indecently exposing himself. Both incidents happened between 4.50pm and 5pm in Pope's Meadow and People's Park, Luton, on Tuesday, February 12. Two women reported that a white man, approximately 5ft 10 tall, with short dark cropped hair and wearing a black waist length jacket, exposed himself to them as they walked through the parks. Police are keen to trace anyone who may have witnessed these incidents or anyone who may have experienced a similar incident. If you have been a victim or have information, you can contact Police Sergeant Shelley Richards at Bedfordshire Police, in confidence, on 101. Alternatively text 07768 200011.

Empty shop making a sporting new start

BY LAUREN ARCHELL
lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

A NEW clothing store has officially opened in The Mall, Luton.

USC, which has moved into the unit that was previously home to Sports Direct, will stock clothing, accessories and footwear.

The shop will cater for both men and women and sells brands including Lacoste, Calvin Klein, Vero Moda and Firetrap.

A spokesman for USC said: "The men, women and children of Luton will have their pick of the latest clothing and footwear in the new store with a selection from the likes of Nike, Adidas, Converse & Vans to name just a few.

"The store is not to be missed."

Julian Dow, Marketing Manager at The Mall said: "We are delighted to have USC within the shopping centre.

"A lot of the brands that they sell will be new in some way to The Mall and adds to the already strong fashion range that we offer."

■ High street fashion retailer Republic has become the latest store to go into administration.

The chain, which has premises in both Luton and Dunstable, appointed accountants Ernst & Young as administrators on Wednesday. The shops have stopped taking gift vouchers.

College cooks up £30k for hospice

BY LAUREN ARCHELL
lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

A STASH of cash raised at a charity gala dinner at Barnfield College has been presented to Keech Hospice Care.

Top London chefs worked alongside enthusiastic and talented students at the New Bedford Road College back in October to cook up a staggering £30,000 for the charity.

Barnfield executive director Helen Mayhew visited the hospice with event organiser, executive chef at The Sheraton Park Lane and former Barnfield student Andrew Bennett MBE, to personally deliver the impressive sum with college staff, contributory chefs and the event committee.

The hospice depends heavily on public generosity in order to continue its fantastic work, as 75 per cent of its costs are covered by donations.

Fundraising Director Joanne Chettleburgh said: "The nurses were so pleased with all the money raised, thank you all."

Barnfield's Helen Mayhew said:

"It was a pleasure to be able to deliver the money to the hospice, where it will help so many terminally ill patients and their families at such a difficult time."

"Keech Hospice Care is a wonderful facility, and Barnfield is proud to support such a worthwhile charity."

'Intoxicated' man admits throwing bin at cop car

A 23-YEAR-OLD has received a community order after damaging the windscreen of a police car by throwing a wheelie bin at it.

Shane Smith, of Wiffen Close in Barton-le-Clay, pleaded guilty to a charge of criminal damage at Luton Magistrates' Court on Wednesday.

Police had been called to a disturbance in May Street, Luton, on January 27. On their arrival they spotted Smith, who picked up the bin and launched it towards the vehicle.

Smith, who represented himself, said: "I was highly intoxicated at the time, although I know that is no excuse."

The court handed him a community order, with a requirement to carry out 150 hours of unpaid work, and a fine totalling £245.

Final call for entrants with the Retail Factor

COMPETITION

THE Mall in Luton is urging local entrepreneurs to enter The Retail Factor before they miss out on an opportunity of a lifetime.

The competition is giving start-up businesses and traders the chance to kick-start their business in Luton, with the opportunity to trade for free at the shopping centre this spring.

The initiative, run in association with Luton on Sunday, gives small businesses from the local area the chance to trade for free at The Mall, Luton, on a Retail Merchandising Unit (RMU).

Selected applicants are invited to showcase their business ideas, products and services to thousands of shoppers over a two week trial period.

The business that achieves the best sales results over their trading period, plus impresses the judges with their product knowledge, ambition and drive will be crowned the Retail Factor 2013 winner.

The prize package, worth more than £10,000, includes two week additional free trading at The Mall, two further weeks with a 50 per cent discount and another two weeks with a 25 per cent discount and a £500 cash contribution towards stock.

WINNERS: Amanda Turner and Suzanne Gilmore won the 2011 competition

In addition, the winner will secure a place at the prestigious Oxford Summer School Academy Course in August 2013.

Marketing manager at The Mall, Luton, Julian Dow, said: "For many small businesses, making your brand well-known in a local area can take time and money in such a competitive market."

"We hope that The Retail Factor competition can help out many local retailers who participate by showcasing themselves to our shoppers and their potential customers."

The deadline for applications is Sunday, February 24 for all entries. To enter The Retail Factor, visit www.themall.co.uk to download an application form, or pick one up from the Ask Me Point at The Mall, Luton.

Deadline for requests for assessments of eligibility for NHS Continuing Healthcare funding for cases during the period 1 April 2011 to 31 March 2012

On 15 March 2012, the Department of Health announced the introduction of deadlines for new cases which require assessment of eligibility for NHS Continuing Healthcare (NHS CHC) funding.

NHS CHC is care provided over an extended period of time to meet physical or mental health needs that have arisen as a result of disability, accident or illness. NHS CHC funding is only provided where an individual has a primary health need and requires long term healthcare, as opposed to social or residential care.

The deadline applies to previously un-assessed periods of care, which occurred in the following time period:

Period	Deadline
1 April 2011 - 31 March 2012	31 March 2013

The deadline for the time period from 1 April 2004 - 31 March 2011 was 30 September 2012 and is now closed.

Individuals should contact the Continuing Healthcare Teams at NHS Bedfordshire or NHS Luton for further information on how to notify the PCT of a request for assessment of eligibility. This notification should be given within the deadline above. Some cases may be accepted after the date outlined above if there are exceptional circumstances for doing so.

Enjoy this Sugar Rush as Ralph takes us to new level

FILM REVIEW

WRECK-IT RALPH (PG)

Running Time: 1hr 45mins
Out now

IF there's one animation that has universal appeal – then this is it.

Disney finally shows it can provide a smashing computer-generated outing without the assistance of Pixar – as this colourfully nostalgic gaming theme 'virtual-ly' ticks all the boxes for both kids and adults alike.

Just seeing title character Ralph (John C Reilly) in a villain support meeting with Zangief and M Bison from Street Fighter II, Bowser from Super Mario Bros, Dr Robotnik from Sonic the Hedgehog, and the ghost monsters from Pac-Man, was more than enough to whet my retro appetite.

Throw in a story that pays more than a passing nod to the likes of Donkey Kong, Halo, Call of Duty and Mario Kart, then you have all the ingredients for a world you just can't fail to fall in love with.

Wreck-it Ralph has been an unappreciated arcade coin-op bad guy all his life – falling to his doom in arcade game Fix-It Felix Jr for thirty years – and now pines for a life of heroism (and a coveted gaming medal) in new first-person shooter Hero's Duty.

But as Ralph pursues his ticket for happiness, he unwittingly unleashes a deadly enemy that threatens to infect every game in the arcade, and then tries to make amends after befriending troublesome computer 'glitch' – and wannabe Karting star – Vanellope (Sarah Silverman) in a bid for redemption.

While the chemistry between the two characters is one of the movie's most endearing qualities, comedic relief is also expertly cooked up with the supporting side dish duo of Felix (Jack McBrayer) and Jane Lynch's (Glee) hard-nosed commander Calhoun, who are both trailing Ralph into the colourfully gaming world of 'Sugar Rush' attempting to prevent an alien infestation.

It still falls a tad short of the Pixar greats in the ingenuity stakes throughout its generally 'paint-by-numbers' duration, but despite the generic 'sugar-coated' finale, this slice of child-hood history is undoubtedly a success story for all ages.

It also proves the legendary

'House of Mouse' studio can still stand on its own two feet, by striking gold with the start of an exciting new franchise which undoubtedly has many more levels to conquer.

One thing's for sure – it's definitely not 'game over' for Ralph and his legendary gaming pals.

Relive the Elvis glory days with this top tribute

MUSIC

ONE NIGHT OF ELVIS

The Grove Theatre
Saturday, March 9, 7.30pm

IN this brand new show for 2013, one of Europe's most successful Elvis Presley tribute artists - Lee Memphis King - presents the ultimate tribute, celebrating the entire career of the musical legend.

This spectacular show begins with an authentic recreation of the 1950s rock 'n' roll years, progressing through the movie years, to Elvis's return to performing in his 1968 comeback special.

The second half culminates in a rousing expo of 'The King's' years performing in Vegas and Lee brings the majesty of the voice and the electrifying power of Elvis's performance back to life.

Throughout the show Lee will be accompanied by his band and backing singers who aim to breathe the life into the music of a legend.

The show also features large screen projection, making it the biggest Elvis show to tour UK theatres.

Over the last 10 years as Lee has toured his 'One Night of Elvis' he has picked up many accolades including 'Best professional Elvis tribute in the world' at the 2005 Collingwood Festival and World's Greatest Elvis finalist.

He has also headlined and sold out some of the most prestigious venues across the UK and Europe.

To any fan of Elvis this show is the one way to enjoy the music of one of the greatest, most celebrated artist the world has known.

Past reviews have said 'judging by this quality performance at a full Hammersmith Apollo, Lee Memphis King is certainly among the premier league of tributes' (The Stage Newspaper).

Django teams up with bounty hunter to catch killers

DJANGO UNCHAINED (18)

The Grove Theatre

Today, Tuesday and Wednesday, 7.30pm

SET in the South two years before the Civil War, Django Unchained stars Jamie Foxx as Django - a slave whose brutal history with his former owners lands him face-to-face with German-born bounty hunter Dr King Schultz (Christoph Waltz).

In the opening scene Dr King pulls up by the Speck brothers who are selling slaves. He introduces himself and says he is looking for a slave who can identify the Brittle brothers.

Django says that he knows the Brittle brothers and can identify them so King buys him.

But his educated manner rubs the Specks up the wrong way, and one of them threatens to kill him. The Dr shoots and kills one brother, and cripples the other.

The injured Speck brother then agrees to sell Django. Dr King gives an official title to Django and prepares to ride off.

Using his vital hunting skills, Django remains focused on one goal: finding and rescuing Broomhilda (Kerry Washington), the wife he lost to the slave trade long ago.

Django and Schultz's search ultimately leads them to Calvin Candie (Leonardo DiCaprio), the proprietor of 'Candyland', an infamous plantation.

Film tickets are £6.50 each and £4.50 for concessions.

Friends of the Grove Theatre can get two for one offers on film tickets.

Getting away from it all with a day of top to toe pampering

REVIEW

SPA AND AFTERNOON TEA

Luton Hoo

Available Monday to Sunday

IT'S Monday morning, and I should be rushing around at work, sending emails and answering phone calls.

Instead I'm reading the daily papers by the side of a luxury pool, after swimming a few lengths.

There is simply no comparison.

The five star pampering began as soon as my Mum and I arrived at the premises, and the doorman called a Luton Hoo taxi to chauffeur us the short distance to the spa.

Once there we collected our fluffy dressing gown and slippers and made our way through to the swimming pool.

With no phone and no access to emails or the internet, it didn't take long to unwind and make the most of the surroundings.

We swam a little, spent some time in the jacuzzi and then relaxed in the sauna and steam room. Total bliss!

In the afternoon we were booked in to have treatments in the spa, including a back massage and manicure. The beautician was extremely attentive, spending more time on the areas of my back that were affected by the strains of every day life.

Afternoon tea was a perfect end to a wonderful day.

A three-tier stand, including perfectly made sandwiches, cakes and scones, was just what was needed after a hard day of relaxing!

I even had the chance to do a spot of celeb spotting, as pop star Una Healy from the Saturdays was busy doing a photoshoot in the grounds of the hotel with her England rugby star boyfriend Ben Foden.

I'd never been on a spa day before visiting Luton Hoo but will be sure to book myself up for another after being totally treated, and would recommend anyone to do the same.

Lauren Archell

■ Luton Hoo Hotel is putting on a ladies' luncheon on March 4.

As well as a three course meal, glass of bubbly and canapes, representatives from Hotel Chocolat will be showcasing their beauty range.

The afternoon costs £39.50 and can be booked by visiting www.lutonhoo.co.uk

WOMEN IN BUSINESS

Celebrating hardwork, long hours, and success

Janan Nolan opened Aviva Health & Beauty in 2008. She has over 13 years experience in the beauty industry, up to level 3 in beauty. Janan has gained a host of skills over the years, her passion and speciality is makeup. In 2006 she lived in Bermuda and went on to work as a top makeup artist for Americas Next Top Models.

Through the years she became more and more interested in opening a large salon in central Luton offering all beauty services. Aviva was established, and went on to winning Salon of the Year for 3 years running. She also created and developed her own Mineral Cosmetics, Aviva Rocks. She wanted to teach and show women that makeup can be good for your skin. Her success came down to the determination to pull through the difficult recession and also, being a mother to her two year old son. Janan added "it's all down to passion, if you really love what you do and really want something you can achieve it. Stay focused and make sure you do your research. Speak to local businesses on their experiences, find out what the public want"

Janan is about to launch Aviva Beauty Training Academy, where you can attend 1 or 2 day beauty courses and receive a beauty qualification that is recognised throughout the UK and Ireland. We asked Janan "Where would she see herself in 10 years time?" she replied "The future is exciting, I would like to expand Aviva Rocks Cosmetics throughout the UK and develop our training academy to help women with their career ideas within the beauty industry and of course continue to be Luton's largest and most popular beauty salon.

In 2006, Miriam Roberts took over Cards 4 You because she loves greeting cards. At the time she was commuting to London and saw the shop as an opportunity to do something different.

Cards 4 You stock hundreds of cards and gifts for birthdays, weddings, Valentine's Day, Mother's Day and Christmas.

If you're looking for the personal touch, the store also offer individual cards for that someone special.

In 2011, Miriam introduced scented Yankee Candles to her store, which have proved very popular.

In the future, she would like to expand her business and open designated Yankee Candle Shops.

Miriam says: "I believe my success in running this small business in Church Street, Dunstable for seven years, is thanks to having an open mind, being cheerful all of the time and following my instincts."

When asked where she sees herself in 10 years, she said: "I think the High Street will be a much different place in 10 years' time, but I have plenty of surprises up my sleeve."

So if you are thinking of buying a gift, pop down to your independent local card shop, Cards 4 You, where you will find something perfect for someone special.

Since leaving University Joanne Baum ran her own very successful retail and manufacturing fine jewellery shop. In 1994 she established Pulse Retail Ltd. This has since been rebranded as two separate entities RedINC, which is a complete anti ageing one stop shop and RedLITE a very modern bespoke tattooist and body piercers. Pulse retail has continued to evolve under Pulse beauty and offers a huge range of online beauty products.

Joanne has always found business to be exciting, she always seeks out new trends and services. She began manufacturing body jewellery in 1994, long before it was the mass industry it is today. Nowadays the focus is on spotting new trends. RedLITE has its own fat removal laser and the latest service is head tattooing (hair micro pigmentation) ,which offers men a bold shaved look. She states that the key to a successful business is when to embark on something new and when to cull a previous trend. "Its not what you sell, its what you are left with!"

Joanne has a masters degree in Criminology, strangely useful in dealing with people! She is also a qualified colonic therapist and has 10 years of being an advanced laser technician under her belt.

Joanne's advice on a successful business is to offer over and above what a customer expects with a fanatical attention to detail.

Join us for an unforgettable journey through America's musical heartland, from the undisputed capital of Country Music to the cradle of the blues and Dixieland jazz, via the birthplace of the 'King' and the Tennessee city in which he made his home, and where rock 'n' roll was born some 60 years ago!

Beginning in Georgia, and then sweeping through Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi and Tennessee, you'll discover the world of WC Handy, Robert Johnson, 'Fats' Domino, Patsy Cline, Dolly Parton and, of course, Elvis Presley. Explore fabled New Orleans, with its unique brand of jazz and fabled French Quarter; visit Tupelo, where the 'King' was born in 1935: take in Memphis, site of legendary Sun Studio, home to Stax Records, famous Beale Street and Graceland, and explore Nashville, home to the Grand Ole Opry and the Country Music Hall of Fame.

Against a background that stretches from the flat Mississippi Delta, through cotton fields to the wooded hills of Tennessee, down to the Gulf of Mexico and back through Alabama, and infused throughout with the magic and mystique, the sights and especially the sounds of the South, this is a truly wonderful holiday to savour and enjoy.

VOLVO JOINS THE FOLD

Volvo's C70 is a classy folding hard-top convertible with smart looks and a decent array of engines.

The car is very well built and safe in typical Volvo fashion, a relaxing cruiser rather than a sharp driver's car. Its positioning in the market is also interesting, sitting above the mainstream offerings but below the premium models in terms of price. It could be just what you're looking for. In styling this car, the Swedish design team started with a coupe profile and then set about making a convertible out of it. As a result, with the hood in place, you probably wouldn't guess that the C70 is capable of flipping its lid. The rear deck isn't overly long (the usual giveaway of folding metal roof cars) and the roofline is smooth and beautifully integrated with the rest of the bodywork. The most recent visual changes are mainly cosmetic - more stylish headlamps, reshaped front wings, in-vogue LED tail lamps, a redesigned instrument panel and plusher fabrics. Otherwise, the recipe is mainly unchanged.

Despite the recent introduction of rivals like Lexus' IS250C, Volvo still reckon that this is the only premium-badged folding metal roof convertible that can properly seat four adults in comfort. Saab and Audi rivals have fabric tops which will have security implications for owners in urban areas and in any case, they aren't quite as spacious for those in the rear. The boot capacity of the C70 is bigger too, at 404 litres with the roof up compared to 352 litres for the Saab and 315 litres for the Audi. With the roof down however, both rivals eclipse the Volvo (fabric takes less stowage space of course), so think carefully about how you're going to use the car.

FA CUP HIGHS AND LOWS

Worst reaction

WELL, it might actually be the best reaction in the book of Paul Buckle.

Ronnie Henry was apoplectic at Jake Howells following Millwall's third goal. The goal made no difference to the outcome of the match but the captain was furious at the lax piece of defending from the full back that allowed Danny N'Guessan to score the third. The row lasted until after Luton had restarted the game and Henry was still ticking when he then clashed with the Millwall goalkeeper. Like Buckle, Henry seems sick and tired of the defensive mistakes.

Best cup pedigree

THERE was no shortage of FA Cup veterans and the press list read like a who's who of cup history.

Ray Houghton, who won the FA Cup twice during his career, was the summariser for Talksport. Craig Burley was a runner-up in 1994 and he was working for ESPN. Clive Walker was man of the match when Chelsea dumped out Liverpool in 78 and 82. He was working for BBC London yesterday.

Former Luton boss David Pleat reached the final with Spurs and he was working for BBC Radio 5 Live.

JJ O'Donnell played well down the left

Worst miss of tie

THAT dubious honour fell to Andy Keogh. James Henry, Millwall's best player on the day, created a gilt-edged opportunity with a perfectly weighted cross to the far post.

The ball found Keogh unmarked at the back stick and the away fans expected the net to bulge. But somehow he missed the target. Kenny Jackett will be relieved it did not matter in the final analysis.

Janos Kovacs posted a contender himself with a more difficult header. He seemed to have done all the hard work from a Howells corner but headed over.

Best timed tackle

IT was a toss up between Jake Howells and Alex Lawless.

Howells was losing a foot race with Andy Keogh on the halfway line around the half-hour mark but he timed his sliding interception to perfection, dispossessing the former Wolves man, preventing a Millwall counter-attack and setting up one for Luton. He would have been booked had he misjudged it.

Lawless ran him close with a crowd-pleasing second-half challenge on Shane Lowry.

The midfielder played with real invention yesterday but he showed the other side to his game by crashing into the left-back and winning the ball. It summed up the tenacity with which Luton played.

FA CUP FIFTH ROUND
LUTON TOWN 0
MILLWALL 3

BY KEVIN AFFLECK

kevin.affleck@lsnmedia.co.uk

THERE were, thankfully, no riots at Kenilworth Road yesterday but plenty of fight from Luton Town who exited the FA Cup after failing to deliver the knockout blow at one end and failing to three sucker punches at the other.

Millwall are not the same heavyweight force as previous cup opponents Wolves and Norwich but they boxed smart, drew and absorbed Luton's early flurries before stinging the home side with first-half goals from James Henry and Rob Hulse.

Defeat, particularly by that margin, was rough on Luton as they were the more progressive side, enjoyed the lion's share of possession and, in Andre Gray, boasted the best player on the field.

But a lack of support for Gray and his failure to garnish a muscular, sprightly and inventive display with the goal, or even two, his performance warranted will have been of a huge relief to Kenny Jackett, the Millwall manager.

The Lions, on the other hand, were clinically efficient in both boxes, seizing on a mistake from Janos Kovacs to take the lead through Henry, doubling it with an expert finish from Hulse, tripling it through Dany N'Guessan and riding their luck at the other end.

The former Watford midfielder will know his side were flattered by the win but then that's cup football.

Millwall were largely outplayed here and were grateful to the shot stopping and calming influence of their keeper, Dave Forbe. They were also helped by two more Luton defensive mistakes in what is now becoming a catalogue. Forbe made two saves from Gray inside the first six minutes and another just past the hour. It

Buckle's job is to get his team to play with the same tempo and intensity away at, say, Macclesfield on a Tuesday night and not just when a place in the next round of the FA Cup is at stake summed up Luton's day when he cleared one off the line with this feet in injury time.

The fact he was by far the busier of the two

Five-try Luton up to fifth

RUGBY UNION ROUND-UP

LUTON climb to fifth place in the London 1 North yesterday after they made it three bonus point wins in a row with a 32-12 win over Chingford.

Luton controlled much of the first half though only led their opponents 8-0 at the interval following an early Rik Hobbs penalty and a Michael Western try, scored late in the first half.

Mark Turner's men made much better use of their possession, and territorial advantage, in the second half, hitting their opponents hard straight from the whistle, allowing Aden Kenny to go over and score after just two minutes of the restart.

Tesh Edwards added a third before Tom Wilmore scored Luton's bonus point try and opened up a 27-7 lead with 15 minutes to play.

The home side managed an unconverted try, but Luton responded at the death to complete the scoring with Kevin Scales going over for the visitors fifth, and final, try of the day.

Luton can now enjoy a rest week and prepare to host Beaconsfield at Newlands Road in a fortnight.

Stockwood Park entertained Northampton Mens Own and ran in eight tries in a 50-0 whitewash, outclassing their opponents in every department.

"We've been training hard, it's all coming together," said Stockwood Park's man of the match Eric Butler.

"Things are starting to click. We're not the biggest, most physical pack, but we have the fitness. From the sixth minute, we're really very hard to live with."

Stockwood Park were without full back Jason Carr and number eight Ben Griffin, two hugely influential players, yet you would not have known it.

First-half tries from Dave Keating and debutant Casimir Abaka set up a 12-0 lead for the Lutonians. Second-half tries from Sam Woulfe, Nick Neubert, James Peddar, Butler and a second try for Abaka completed the rout.

Stockwood Park look forward to hosting table-topping Stewarts & Lloyd next weekend, and avenging the 21-16 defeat they suffered at the hands of the same opposition in October.

No plans to chop boss

HATTERS NEWS

LUTON TOWN managing Director Gary Sweet has dismissed rumours that former Hatter Stephen Robinson is set to take over Paul Buckle's role as manager.

Speculation had begun to mount after an Irish publication claimed the Northern Ireland U-21 manager had been contacted by Luton Town in the wake of a poor streak of form from Buckle and his men.

"It's news to me," said Sweet. "I think the last time I spoke to Robbo is when I gave him a cheque. Robbo's a great lad but I know nothing about that story."

"I can categorically tell you there are no plans at all to be holding any interviews."

Buckle is Luton's fourth manager in as many years and will have been in charge for a year this April. Sweet acknowledges the doubt surrounding the future of the former Torquay boss due the club's reputation as "serial sackers".

Gray: I was never going

HATTERS NEWS

ANDRE Gray says he never considered leaving the Hatters in January, despite speculation that Millwall manager Kenny Jackett was keeping tabs on him.

Jackett watched Luton's 6-1 thrashing of Barrow at Kenilworth Road in January, amid rumours that Gray was set to join a Championship side.

Gray signed improved terms less than a week after that game to tie him to the club until June 2015 and the 21-year-old says his future was never in the balance.

"I didn't hear anything," said Gray. "People were tweeting me about it but it wasn't something that I paid much attention to. I'm happy here. I said I wasn't going to move in January. It was a case of being happy and settled here and looking to get promoted."

Gray admits he may not see out his contract at the club. "Football is a crazy game and things change a lot," Gray said.

Brill 'grew' up away

HATTERS NEWS

DEAN Brill says he returned to Luton Town in the summer as more rounded person and goalkeeper.

The 27-year-old left Kenilworth Road in 2009 but ended up back at Luton after spells at Oldham Athletic and Barnet.

"I grew up," said Brill. "I was a young man when I left here and I'm four or five years older now, and I'd like to think I've come back bigger and stronger, both mentally and physically."

"It gave me a different perspective on football itself."

"It's not just the club. I'm a local boy and moving away from home, it's a different way of life."

"Coming back, I've grown up and not only am I an older man but hopefully a better man as well."

Brill was just 17 when he made his debut for Luton as a substitute against Oldham in September 2003.

roar to spoil dream

keepers tells its own story. Luton will play a lot worse than this yet still win games this season, but it is Paul Buckle's job to get his team to play with the same tempo and intensity away at, say, Macclesfield on a Tuesday night and not just when a place in the next round of the FA Cup is at stake.

Gray certainly raised his game yesterday, placing himself firmly in the shop window by carrying the fight to a team whose manager came to Kenilworth Road to personally run the rule over him last month.

His stock, and transfer value, will have only gone up after he gave the Millwall defence a serious working over.

The way he evaded Karleigh Osbourn and Najim Abdou with the clever use of his body and turn of speed belonged at a much higher level than the Blue Square Bet Premier. He worked his socks off and the way he closed down and then out-muscled Mark Beevers on the far touchline in the first half typifying his commitment.

He was joined by Jon Shaw, Stuart Fleetwood and Scott Rendell as Buckle went for broke.

Indeed, the move took Rendell by surprise as he started to make his way to the touchline when he saw Shaw stripping off.

It was Arnaud Mendy, who was key to Luton's tactic of pressing high up the field, who was sacrificed yet it made little difference.

Luton would not have scored had they been out there for another 90 minutes. It was just one of those days. But the fact Luton have now scored just twice in their last six games is a cause for growing concern.

They also continue to shoot themselves in the foot at the other end. Kovacs and Howells were the players culpable this time and captain Ronnie Henry was furious at Howells for the mistake that led to the third.

In mitigation, this was a cobbled together back four and it was asking a lot for them to play with any understanding or telepathy. Buckle had an entire back four in Simon Ainge, Steve McNulty, Wayne Thomas and Lathaniel Rowe-Turner sitting in the stands and their return cannot come soon enough.

Luton: Tyler: Taylor, Kovacs, Henry, Howells; Lawless, Mendy (Shaw, 69), Smith, O'Donnell (Fleetwood 64); Gray, Rendell.

Millwall: Forde, Dunne, Lowry, Abdou, Osborne, Beevers, Feeney (N'Guessan, 62), Trotter, Hulse (Marquis, 70), Keogh, Henry (Smith, 88). Subs not used: Taylor, Goodman, Wright, Malone.

Barton stage comeback while Town edge it

FOOTBALL ROUND-UP

BY JONATHAN PAXTON

sport@lsnmedia.co.uk

BARTON Rovers fought back from a goal down at struggling North Greenford to win 2-1 in the Evo-stik Central Division.

The home side led 1-0 at half time, prompting Rovers manager Dan Kenney to switch to a forward three for the second half and it paid off for the hour.

Rhys Hoeness had a great run and shot which was cleared to the edge of the box from where captain Tommy Hull lobbed the ball back into an empty net.

Rovers grabbed the points late in the game when James Edgeley was fouled in the area and James Bent converted the spot kick.

"We made hard work of it but a win is a win," Kenney said. "The switch to 3-4-3 at half time put us on the front foot and over 90 minutes we probably deserved the points."

Dunstable Town made hard work of winning 2-1 at Biggleswade United but remain unbeaten in the Spartan South Midlands Premier Division.

Against a side struggling in the bottom six of the table, it took until the 47th minute before Anthony Fontanelle fired Dunstable into the lead through a crowd of players.

Biggleswade equalised on 55 minutes, Sean Murray claiming the final touch in a scramble to put them in position to snatch an unlikely point.

It was left to Nathan Frater to wrap up the three points for Dunstable when he finished off a move after good work from Tony Burnett and Fontanelle in the 75th minute.

The Blues are five points clear at the top of the table and travel to Watford to face second placed Oxhey Jets for a crunch fixture next Saturday.

AFC Dunstable lost to the odd goal in seven as Hadley won 4-3 at Creasey Park with manager Alex Butler cursing defensive lapses.

Hadley led 2-0 at half time prompting Butler to make changes, bringing on Courtney Massey and putting an extra man up front.

With 15 minutes of the restart, AFC were in the lead through goals by Dale Turney, Craig Butler and Graham Clarke and had chances to extend their lead.

However, defensive errors cost them dear as Hadley scored two late goals to take the points from an entertaining game.

Crawley Green saw off Amersham 3-0 in Division One to keep the pressure on towards the top of the table.

Crawley took the lead in the 40th minute, Terry Billy setting up Peter O'Donnell to score and Chris Gibson finished well from 18 yards out to make it 2-0 in first half stoppage time.

Amersham failed to pose a threat in the second half and Adam Reid wrapped up the scoring in the 62nd minute after more good work from Billy.

Crawley were able to give a debut to 17-year-old Reece Green who came on for the last 15 minutes, forcing a save from the Amersham goalkeeper in a promising cameo.

Millwall in Gray hunt admission

FOOTBALL

BY LUKE PETERSON
sport@lsnmedia.co.uk

KENNY Jackett admitted his interest in Luton's star striker Andre Gray but is yet to make a bid for the 21-year-old.

Speaking after Millwall's 3-0 defeat of the Hatters in Saturday's FA Cup fifth round tie, Jackett acknowledged the threat posed by Luton's joint-top scorer.

"He played very well," said Jackett. "He looks to get in behind wherever he can, he comes wide into channel areas and looks for balls in behind. He was their major threat today."

Jackett was spotted in the crowd during Luton's 6-1 thrashing of Barrow before Gray had signed a contract extension, sending the rumour mill into overdrive.

The former Watford manager moved to clarify the speculation.

"I didn't know we were going to draw Luton at that time [the Barrow game] but I've watched him a couple of times," he said. "Like a lot of clubs and a lot of managers, that's the guy I was watching."

Darren Ferguson, the Peterborough manager, was also at Kenilworth Road yesterday. Posh have a history of plucking forwards from non league, such as George Boyd, Michael Bostwick and Aaron McLean.

The cup games against Wolves, Norwich and Millwall have put Gray in the shop window and generated £215,000 in prize money.

"I'm very proud of the cup run," Paul Buckle said. "The players have been an absolute credit to the football club. To beat a Championship team and a Premiership team is fantastic."

Captain had words with Howells

FOOTBALL

BY LUKE PETERSON
sport@lsnmedia.co.uk

LUTON Town captain Ronnie Henry blamed Jake Howells for Millwall's third goal yesterday, conceding the team's raft of individual mistakes is undermining the Hatters season.

A half-hearted challenge and clearance from Howells led to Dany N'Guessan completing a flattering result for the Lions. Henry and Howells became involved in a heated row and Henry was still seething and shaking his head as he left the pitch.

"I've had a few words with Jake [Howells]," said Henry. "I'm not going to come out here and say what I've said to him. It's between me and Jake."

"I just said I disagree with something he's done during the game. It's my duty to tell him what I think and he's accepted it."

Manager Paul Buckle has been tearing his hair out at his side's individual mistakes in recent weeks and will meet managing director Gary Sweet tomorrow to discuss his plans to shake things up after Janos Kovacs gift-wrapped the Lions their first goal yesterday.

"We can't keep coming out here and talking about mistakes and then keep making them," said Henry. "We've got to be hard on each other."

"If we want to get out of this league and be successful in life you have to tell each other what's wrong and learn from that."
